

thing was that Mr. White said I ought to be sent away to school, and I was, to New Jersey."

After leading the witness to tell, in chronological order, of the incidents of her wedding with Thaw in Pittsburgh, Mr. Delmas asked her if she had seen Stanford White after her return to New York from the honeymoon trip.

White Pursued Wife.

"I passed Stanford White one day on Fifth Avenue," she said, "and he saw me and I heard him say 'Evelyn,' just like that," and Mrs. Thaw raised her voice as if to call some one, "I went back to our hotel and told Harry, and he said, 'The dirty blackguard. He had no right to speak to you.'"

The next time I saw him I was driving to Mr. Delmas's office to have my throat treated. Stanford White was also in a cab. He just stared at me this time and stroked his mustache. I turned into the Fifth Avenue, and at Fifth Avenue, and as I alighted at the doctor's door I saw Stanford White coming. I rang the bell and the maid came to the door, and then I got so nervous and trembled that I could not get back again, and I ran down the steps, got into the cab and drove to the hotel, where I told Harry what had happened. He got very excited and bit his nails."

These were the only two instances, Mrs. Thaw said, that she told her husband that Stanford White had approached or attempted to speak to her.

Great Crowd Present.

There was another great crowd in the courtroom to-day, every available bit of space being occupied by persons sitting in the rear of the court benches and others who were fortunate enough to have chairs brought for them. The dramatic thrills of the day before were not there, however, and the crowd did not seem both to leave when the witness was taken, more than an hour earlier than usual.

The day began with a continuance of the reading of the letters from Harry Thaw to Mr. Longfellow, written after Evelyn Nesbit's revelation to her sister in Paris. There were others too, which Thaw had sent to the attorney to deliver to Miss Nesbit, who at the time would not see him.

Mrs. Thaw followed these with a relation of her experiences with Stanford White and Abraham Hummel concerning the alleged affidavit which she made charging Harry Thaw with having taken her from her mother against her will, and with gross cruelty. Mrs. Thaw told how she had been induced to answer some questions about herself and Mr. Thaw at the time, and had been told the stories about his "crucifixes to give."

Signed Papers for White.

Stanford White told her, she declared, that it was necessary to take drastic measures to protect her from such a person, and that Harry Thaw must be kept out of New York. She denied that she had ever signed any papers in Hummel's office, but said she remembered having signed some papers for Mr. White in "his offices," the contents of which she did not know.

When she got frightened about the papers and demanded to see them, she said Mr. White took her to Hummel's office, and there they burned a paper which had her name at the bottom of it. She was not allowed to see the paper, but she said it was destroyed. This feature of Mrs. Thaw's story was made amusing at times by her interjections of the names which Harry Thaw had applied to the lawyer and Mr. White's assistant, questioning as to what she had told Hummel about him. She declared she had told the lawyer nothing.

Hummel Squeezed White.

"Well, Mr. White said to me," she went on, "there is something wrong somewhere. He has just squeezed a thousand dollars out of me, and the Lord knows how soon he will squeeze another."

"I then remembered having told Mr. Hummel, when he threatened things about Mr. Thaw, that he had better be careful for Mr. Thaw's money, and of terrible things about Stanford White."

The defense endeavored to get into evidence to-day the wills of Harry Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, executed the night of their wedding in Pittsburgh. There were so many interjections, additions and erasures that Justice Fitzgerald held the documents were not admissible until the charges were proved. Mr. Delmas said he would later endeavor to do this, as the wills and the interjections and a codicil by Harry Thaw had to do with the proof tending to show the insanity of the defendant.

It came out in the discussion of the wills that the name of Stanford White occurred in Thaw's testament.

Mr. Hatridge, of Thaw's counsel, said, at court adjourned today, that Mrs. Thaw would go on with her direct examination Monday morning. Just what will be the nature of District Attorney Jerome's cross-examination when he takes the witness in question, it is said he may try in some way to attack her credibility, probably as to her ability to remember other things, as well as the stories she has declared she told Harry Thaw from time to time.

MAKES A SHOW OF HIS SISTER'S SHAME

Howard Nesbit Secures Admission to Court for Friends. Laughs at Story.

NEW YORK, February 8.—Unable to enter the courtroom himself, whose sister, Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, is telling of her life, Howard Nesbit, who will be a witness for the prosecution, spent several hours this afternoon in securing admission to the courtroom for his friends. He would dash through the crowd, when he spoke one of his acquaintances, and take the man to the door and get him in.

Although his sister is undergoing an ordeal for women, if any, would have the courage to go, he appeared to take pleasure in gaining admission for his friends into the courtroom.

With a smile on his face and with evident amusement, Nesbit read the story told in court by his sister as he sat in the office of Assistant District Attorney Garvan.

Leaning back in a big armchair, his feet resting on a shelf of a nearby desk, he carefully picked up a newspaper and began to read the details of her testimony.

To persons who were watching, it seemed as though each line he read centuated the smile, and once or twice he laughed loudly. A few feet from him sat Charles Hartnett, Mr. White's secretary, who refused to allow young Nesbit to talk.

There is every possibility that young Nesbit will be called by the district attorney as a witness in rebuttal, and it was expected that he would be in the courtroom and listen to the remainder of his sister's story concerning her relations with Stanford White.

MRS. THAW SAYS UNWRITTEN LAW

Writes Letter of Sympathy to a Prisoner and Says That Is Defense.

FREELAND, Pa., February 8.—Struck by the ordeal through which she is now passing, William Pittton, of Beaver Meadow, indicted for murdering his wife's admirer, made it known to-day that Mrs. Evelyn Thaw addressed to him a letter of sympathy. Pitton's trial is now pending in the Carbon county courts, and the circumstances of his case in many ways are not unlike those of Thaw's. Three months ago, Pitton, who kept a saloon at Beaver Meadow, found Harry Steward making improper advances to his wife after he had warned him to stay away. Steward had also threatened to kill Pitton. On this accusation Pitton shot and killed Steward.

Mrs. Thaw, in her letter, also said her own husband was indicted on a charge very similar, and then declared that the unwritten law would be his defense.

"BOILED IN BATH" SAYS PARIS WOMAN

Declares That Thaw Paid Her Two Thousand Dollars Hush Money.

PARIS, February 8.—The newspapers of Paris are devoting much space to the proceedings of the Thaw trial in New York, and as a result a number of persons are coming forward anxious to testify to Thaw's alleged escapades in Paris, which they declare can only be explained on the ground that he was insane. A woman from whom Thaw rented an apartment in this city has visited Consul-General Mason and recounted numerous episodes of Thaw's stay.

Another woman, who says she is an American, has informed the newspapers that she figured in the "bathub incident" to which reference was made in Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's testimony yesterday. This woman makes further allegations of mistreatment at the hands of Thaw, and declares that he gave her $2,000 to compensate her for the injuries she sustained.

TRYING TO AVERT STRIKE ON NORFOLK AND WESTERN

ROANOKE, Va., February 8.—To-day was the time set for settling the controversy between the Norfolk and Western and its firemen, but the Chamber of Commerce offered its good office to both, and invited them to the rooms of that body. Two meetings were held without reaching an understanding, and the meeting then adjourned over until Tuesday.

The Chamber of Commerce will hold a meeting to-morrow and make a strong effort to get the Norfolk and Western and the firemen to reach an agreement.

SELMA, Ala., February 8.—It is stated here that if the differences between the machinists of the Selma shops of the Southern Railway are not adjusted at a conference to be held to-morrow morning with officials of the road, every member of the Machinists' Union on the Southern Railway will be ordered to walk out of the shops. This would affect several thousand men. The trouble at Selma is due to the appointment of a non-union foreman.

BOYLTON, Va., February 8.—The preliminary trial of Lewis Weaver, the young white man who made a savage attack upon E. Tackett with man and stones, was held this week at the home of Mr. Tackett, as he (Weaver) was too feeble to attend the trial here. Weaver was taken in a buggy by Sheriff Beales to the trial. Justice D. H. Jones presided, and sent the prisoner on to the Circuit Court for trial. Messrs. C. T. Baskerville and C. J. Flukner will represent the prisoner.

WAR IMMINENT IN CENTRAL AMERICA

pressure to bear upon the governments to which they were accredited to prevent hostilities, it was said at the State Department to-day that correspondence had been exchanged between the department and the Mexican government to this end. The Washington government regards itself as bound under the treaty of San Jose and the Maribondo pact to offer good offices to prevent warfare between the Central American republics, and as the republic of Mexico is under similar obligation, the two are trying to arrange a program whereby Mexico will represent the wishes of the United States, as well as her own people in the case.
